“ Dustin joined the Trail Riders of Southern Arizona (TRS) off-road motorcycle club on August 30, 2022. He quickly became a “brother” in the local dirt bike motorcycle community. All the club members who rode and bench raced with Dustin enjoyed his company. He was always ready to volunteer and help make our club successful. TRS recognized he shared our vision of riding and working together to improve the future of our local communities. TRS envisioned Dustin would be part of our mission for the long term. We will certainly miss him at club meetings, rides, and races. Our deepest and sincere condolences and prayers to his family.

“Dustin Dagg was one of my soldiers in the 84th Engineer Combat Battalion (Heavy). He arrived to a shaky start but became a good soldier. Like most new Joes, he was a bit nervous with our upcoming tour to Iraq in 2006. After a few conversations, I told him, "We're going and I'm going to be the Mother----er to bring you home." In January 2007, our plane touched down in Hawaii. We had a formation then we were released after one tough year. Dagg approached me stuck out his hand and said, "Thanks Mother----er." He still had a bit of a nervous smile knowing that saying something like that to his NCO could lead him into hot water. I shared the laugh with him as I shook his hand. At that point, he wasn't just a soldier, but a brother. Not just a castle on his collar, nor just a combat patch for his sleeve, yes, he earned those, but something else was there that could never be taken away.

After getting out, he was one of those people that truly followed his passion, riding his bikes. He didn't friend too many of us and wasn't active on social media so that meant a lot to me that we stayed in touch. He was always smiling with the few posts he made or was tagged in.

To his family, I sincerely thank you for raising a patriot in a time when it's "fashionable" to turn your back on our beloved nation. I thank you for entrusting me and other NCOs with the care of your son, a young man that became a battle-hardened warrior. I thank you for giving me great memories that will last my lifetime. My dear Solder, friend.... my brother, you will be greatly missed.

“Dustin was like a big brother to in the short 8 months I knew him I felt like I knew him my whole life. My favorite memories of him are jamming out to music in our 310 work truck having long talks everyday about line work, dirtbikes, and everyday life stuff. His passion for dirtbikes was out of this world. He used to tell me “I love line work and I do it to support my dirtbike addiction”. There is a pair of Klein ratchet cutters that I loved that he had and I would always tell him how much I liked them. The day he left trico to head out back home I said by to him and when I got in the work truck he had left those cutters for me to have. I’ll hold on to the cutters for the rest of my life. Love you bro I hope you’re at peace im going to miss you more then you’ll ever know.
